Northeast State Level Elocution Contest

With the immense compassion of Jagat Janani Tripureeshwari, this year also Northeast State level classical competition was organized for the students to display their talent and tact in the Sanskrit Shastras from 14-03-2021 onwards.

In the inaugural session of this program, Prof. Bachchaa Bharti, HOD, Shiksha Shastri, delivered his welcome speech for the visiting guests, professors and students. Prof. Satyadeo Poddar, Vice Chancellor of Maharaj Bir Bikram University, Agartala, remained present as Chief Guest. In his lecture, he said that the promotion of Sanskrit language is absolutely necessary. Through Sanskrit language, we can easily pronounce all Indian languages. Indian culture has been dependent on Sanskrit since ancient times. Therefore, it is my wish to make this language known to all. Sanskrit language has also been mentioned in many places in the new education policy. The education policy of the Indian knowledge tradition is clearly visible. I think this classical competition in this direction is suitable for the promotion of Sanskrit knowledge tradition. In the northeastern states also, the promotion of Sanskrit language should be done on priority basis. Prof. Kameshwar Shukla, Senior Professor of Sanskrit Department of Gauhati University as Guest of honor opined in favor of both practical and classical form of Sanskrit language. At the same time, he said that at this time the propagation process of practical language is visibly right, but the propagation of classical language does not look like that. Earlier, students were able to speak line by line by studying the scriptures in the traditional way. Discussion session on Shastras used to hold everywhere. But today such situation is not seen in universities. Even today, this Central University is constantly striving to promote and preserve the classical tradition and encourage the students studying the classical Shastras all over India. After that, the Chairperson of the session, Prof. Sukantakumar Senapati, Director of Ekalavya Campus, while congratulating the scholars present in his presidential address, said ‘enriched students should come forward to study the basic scriptures of Indian culture, so that we all together make India a world guru. He also commented that this time is very favorable for the study of scriptures. The Government of India has envisaged a proper place for the Indian knowledge tradition in the new education policy. Dependent on this, if we work together, then I believe that the new education policy in the field of Sanskrit will be realized’. Every year this classical competition is organized by the Central Sanskrit University for the benefit of the students. Therefore, students should make use of this opportunity to get the best out of this literary event. In the end, the co-convener of the program Dr. G. Narsinghulu delivered his vote of thanks to all. Dr. Ganeshwarnath Jha, the convener of this program, conducted the whole program.

Valedictory session-Dr. G. Narsimhulu, Co-Convener of this session delivered his welcome speech for the guests, teachers and students who came in this session. As the chief guest in this program, Shri Ramprasad Pal, Fire Safety & Jail Minister, Govt. of Tripura said ‘the knowledge and splendor of Indian culture relies on Sanskrit language a lot and so the promotion of this language is must. I am very happy to see the Rasaprasan competition organized in Sanskrit language. I congratulate all the students who have come here. For the development of Ekalavya Campus, we will extend all kind of assistance from the government. As Special guest, Dr. Devrajpanigrahi, Associate Professor of Sanskrit Department of Tripura Central University, said ‘this time is very favorable for the development of Sanskrit language in the state of Tripura. Therefore, we should do new programs in this direction, so that the number of people studying Sanskrit language and scriptures increases’. The program was presided over by the Director of the campus. Prof. Sukanta Kumar Senapati. In his speech, he said that students got little time to get prepared for the same and performed brilliantly in the competition. I am feeling very happy to see the presentation of the students in the Shashtra competition. All the staff of the campus worked very hard throughout day and night for the success of this program. He even expressed his heartfelt gratitude for the gracious presence of the minister. Students should prepare for the advance year with enthusiasm.

Prize distribution – At last, prizes were distributed among the winners. Altogether 59 students participated in these competitions. Co-convener Dr. Shrikara GN coordinated in the prize distribution program. The convener of this program, Dr. Ganeshwarnath Jha delivered his vote of thanks to the guests, teachers, students and employees. Anchoring of this program was done by Dr. Manju Themdeo.

Extension Lecture session organized by the Dept. of Vyakarana

The Dept. of Vyakarana, CSU, Ekalavya Campus, Agartala, organized an extension lecture session (online) on 28-03-2022 on the topic 'Annitavidhan ebam abhihitanyavad'. It is well acknowledged that whenever we listen to any word, the meaning of the same is felt by us. That's why, it is said that there is special energy in word and meaning. The sense of meaning is attained through this knowledge. And no sense of meaning is felt in unattainable energy. So to attain energy in this way two domains were created in the Shastra in the form of 'Annittwavidhan' and 'Abhihitanyavad'. There is a disparity in opinion among the scholars in these two theories. To quench the curiosity in this existing disparity between these two theories among the learners the Dept. of Vyakaran of CSU, Ekalavya Campus, Agartala, organized this extension lecture session (online) inviting renowned academician Pandit Shri Dravid Shastri as Chief Guest on 28-03-2022 at 4 p.m. onwards.
